Hola Chicos - been a minute - all good here. And yeah, haven't completed the photo project from last year's burn - oops - will get to that at some point.

Time for the what looks good musically for my 25th lap up to the playa...

1. Kruder and Dorfmeister. Holy fucking shit - heard this rumor earlier...and it's true. I will be at every one of their three gigs with a big smile.
2. Holmar (formerly of Thugfucker) recently announced his retirement, so this is his last time DJing on the playa - will def check his gigs out.
3. Distrikt has a new location on the back row of 10 and their lineup is slamming all week - should be cooler this year which will allow afternoon dancing again - woop woop.
4. Last year, Ashram Gallatica was my favorite smaller place to dance, so will be by for a disco there again.
5. Robot Heart has not announced anything, but they are always a good bet for sunrise.
6. Will def be at my OG camp Garage Mahal's Tuesday Gold party.

Other than that, lately I'm digging smaller dance floors with a good dance vibe over the mega crowded big name DJ events, so will be doing a mix of these big name DJ events and just sniffing out good smaller spots with unknown DJs on the fly.

Here's my highlighted Rockstar Librarian guide with the bigger name DJs I recognize and would be interested in seeing if I'm in the hood and feeling frisky...
